OIL CITY AND MERCER

They Will Pay Big Money For Our Boy.

AN EXCELLENT OFFER MADE

They Want Him in That Town of Grease and Seem to Have the Price in Their Pocket—A New Story of the Twirlers' Coming Location.

A Pittsburg paper this morning contained the following interesting information:

"Pitcher Mercer, who last year pitched for the Washington club in the National league, will not wear a senator's uniform next season unless the Washington management chooses to raise the figure of salary. It can be definitely stated that the handsome East Liverpool lad will not wear a National league uniform at all unless things come his way pretty much as he dictates. He will most likely appear in an Oil City uniform this coming season. It is strange but true that the little town Oil City is not only able but is willing and very anxious to pay him more money than Washington in the National league is willing to produce. The senatorial management is making a great cry and play for sympathy by announcing that they have offered Mercer $600 advance over his salary of last year and that he, bold, bad man, has refused to accept the terms. He wants more. The Washington people have neglected to state that they last year paid this most excellent pitcher the great sum of $900 in salary. He is beyond doubt one of the best pitchers in the big league today; his proposed raise of $600 will bring his salary up to $1,500. There are a dozen other pitchers in the big league not half so good as Mercer receiving $2,400 per year.

Oil City can and will pay Mercer $200 per month. He will not have to pitch more than two games per week and he will have a good chance to make a big lot of money on the side. Guy Hecker is willing. Mercer is willing. Oil City cranks are anxious. Washington looks on and squeezes the purse strings still tighter. How will it end?

Should Pitcher Mercer leave the big league, not only Washington but the entire league will be a loser. He is one of the best. He is said to be the fastest man in the game getting down to first. He pitched 38 games last year, and with the rocky support for which the senators are noted came out with 421. Three hundred and three base hits were made off him; he gave 105 bases on balls and struck out 57 men. He is one of the best batting pitchers. He equaled the hitting of Billy Nash, the great Boston captain, last season, taking a stock in 43 games, making 29 runs and 48 base hits; an average of .294. He stole 10 bases.

SCHELLER WON.

The Big Fellow Beats Allison at Turner Hall.

There was a small crowd at Turner hall on Saturday evening to witness the wrestling match between Scheller and Allison. The men were unevenly matched as to weight, Allison being 228 pounds and Scheller 170. Jack Hassey was chosen referee because Ed Riley, the Pittsburg man, was ill and could not be present.

The men looked in the best of condition when they stepped before the audience. Allison, however, seeming much heavier than his opponent. At the signal from the referee the holds were taken, and the match commenced. Allison's superior weight showed well for a time, but Scheller fought him at every turn. At length after a struggle lasting over 33 minutes Allison threw Scheller by what is known as the half Nelson and combination of leg locks. The next bout was of much shorter duration, Scheller throwing his opponent in 21 minutes by the giant lock and wrist hold. Allison showed signs of weakening at this time, but he made no move to give up the battle, and gathering himself for the final bout looked as if he was about to win. But it did not work in that way. Scheller had the elbow lock and scissors hold, and in a little over two minutes had thrown his man, and won the match.

Scheller is much elated over his victory, and proposes to issue a challenge tomorrow to wrestle any man of his weight, give or take 10 pounds, in the country. He will make this city his headquarters for the present, as he has been well treated since coming here, and he believes the people are fond of sports when carried on in the right way without a suspicion of fake about them. The crowd who witnessed the match were well pleased. It is said that but little money changed hands on the result. Some of the local sports wanting to bet could not decide upon the winner, and others knew so little of the comparative merits of the different men that they feared to risk a dollar. The bets made were without odds.

Among the Racers.

A novel contest is being arranged for the Fifth street rink in the shape of a muscle race on skates. Arthur Mears, of Cleveland, will skate one mile backward, while George Woolmaker, of this city, covers one-half the distance skating on one foot. Both styles of skating are very difficult.

Two youngsters named Allison and Kelley ran a race at the rink Saturday night, Allison covering a mile, while his opponent was only two laps behind. Kelley fell, but pluckily started again and continued until the race was ended. The contest was interesting, as a rivalry has long existed between the boys, and each contestant had a crowd of youthful friends who yelled themselves hoarse.

On the Right Track.

A prominent resident of the city, who keeps an eye on county affairs, was laughing Saturday night at the hue and cry which has been raised because John Sant was desirous of selling a little information. He believes that the position taken by Auditor Harvey is the position which any good business man would assume under the circumstances. The auditor has himself as well as the county to protect, and he can conscientiously do nothing until he knows beyond any question of doubt that he is on the right track. And that is the way all people with unbiased view will observe it.

He Played a Pretty Game.

A swindler with a new game struck the city, and made a few dollars pocket money the other day. He pretends to sell fresh country eggs, and being a farmer looking customer succeeded in disposing of several cases of eggs at the rate asked for fresh eggs. The man got the money and the grocer got the eggs, but only to discover that they were the ordinary quality such as are sold by cold storage companies. The merchant learned that the eggs came from Wheeling, and now he is looking for the stranger, and when he is found there will be a prosecution.

Pay Your Income Tax.

The deputy collectors are receiving the first instructions relative to the collection of the income tax, and are being directed to distribute the blank forms to all persons and corporations coming under the provisions of the law. Taxpayers must be given all the information they ask, but the failure to receive the blank forms is not a valid excuse for neglecting to make the return required by law, and will not reduce the penalties imposed for such failure or neglect. The deputies are required to keep a memorandum of those subject to the law.

Cutting Telephone Rates.

The Bell Telephone company has found at Norwalk that they must cut rates in order to retain patronage, and have dropped from the regular price of $48 a year to the unprecedented rate of $18. This was brought about by the competition of a local company, and does not mean that there will be cutting at other points, as some people have imagined. The branch of the company in this section is against any rate cutting, the idea being to improve the service instead, but continue the same prices.

How He Got His Start.

A local man chancing to drop into a big store in Pittsburg on Saturday, saw the owner of the establishment, and recognized him as a man who sold goods on the street here from a store box about 15 years ago. He did a flourishing business here, and going to other places he continued in this way until he got a foothold in the city. There he prospered so well that he is rapidly becoming wealthy. When here he was known as Taffy, but the man who found him out refuses to give his Pittsburg name.

The Weather Caused It.

There was a preceptible scarcity of applications for relief at the trustees' office today and it was evident that nothing but cold weather had compelled the many poor people to resort to the last means. Since the blizzard has left this vicinity the trustees anticipate a general falling off among their charges.

Appraised the Estate.

The appraisers appointed by the court to look after the estate of the late Henry Webber were at work on Saturday making the appraisal. The estate is said to be more valuable than most people imagined.

NOW IT'S MAYOR MANLEY

The Squire Takes the Place of Mayor Gilbert.

TWO DRUNKS AND DISORDERLIES

They Could Not Understand Why They Were Arrested and One Said He Was Not Guilty—A Few Plain Drunks on the Streets Saturday—A Man Missing.

The sudden call of Mayor Gilbert to the east by the death of his father necessitated the appointment of a deputy, and Squire Manley was tendered the position. The first case to come before him this morning was Albert Gardner. He was arrested on Second street, and was charged by Officer Welsh with being very drunk and decidedly disorderly. The officer made the charge, and when it was read to the prisoner, he declared that he was not guilty. This necessitated a trial, and the hour of 2 o'clock this afternoon was set.

A man named Bachman was arrested by Officer Supplee at the corner of Fourth and Washington streets late on Saturday afternoon. He was drunk and acting in a disorderly manner when the officer made the arrest, and it was only with difficulty that he was secured. He insisted on laying down in the snow, and strongly objected to being given more comfortable quarters at city hall. He was to have been heard by Squire Manley late this morning.

LATER—Albert Bachmann whose arrest by Officer Supplee on Fourth street and promised appearance at city hall at 9 o'clock this morning, is mentioned above, is absent from his usual haunts. In fact he seems to be absent from the city and Thomas Abrams with whom Bachmann has been staying says he has lost several articles by reason of his departure. Principal among these goods are a pair of shoes, overcoat, overcoat and hat, and Abrams now regrets that he had anything to do with the festive Albert. The matter was reported to Chief Gill, but it was impossible to find the missing man.

In spite of the bitter cold there were a number of drunks on the streets on Saturday night. The greater number seemed to be country men, and fear was expressed by more than one person who saw them that they would fall by the wayside going home and sleep their lives away.

More to Come.

The warm wave which dropped into this section Saturday afternoon, and developed yesterday into the most pleasant weather for a week, was well received on every hand. But the prediction of the groundhog has not yet been fulfilled, and there is more bad weather coming. The weather prophets say that another stormy period will begin about Tuesday, but the real bad weather of the month will not be upon us until after the 16th when it will come down like a wolf on the fold freezing and blowing for a week.

They Walked to Work.

Many people in the East End are objecting because the street railway people have inaugurated the new system of running cars, and there is indignation scattered all over that part of town. This morning fully 50 people walked to their work in preference to waiting on a car, and they claimed that what time they gained would recompense them for the inconvenience. At this rate the motor people will not save a great deal by cutting rates.

They Thought He Was Killed.

When the morning passenger train going west was leaving the passenger station the crowd was horrified to see what looked as though Baggage-master Smith had been hit by a car. The trouble was simply the collision of two heavily-laden trucks, in which nothing was injured except three or four cans of milk that were thrown down and their contents scattered over the platform. It was not even a narrow escape for the genial baggage man.

One of the Best.

An old railroad man who keeps tab on matters pertaining to railroads says that the Cleveland & Pittsburg was one of the best managed north and south roads in Ohio during the late blizzard. At times the trains were a few hours late, but the delay was not anything to what other roads endured.

Church Services.

The beautiful weather of yesterday filled the churches, and good congregations were noticeable in all parts of the city. Exceptionally large crowds were in attendance at the churches where revival services are being held, and renewed interest was manifested in all of them. At the First Presbyterian church the motor which operates the organ was frozen up, and the piano from the Sunday school room was brought in.

When the Ice Goes Out.

Rivermen greatly fear that there will be great damage wrought when the heavy ice which covers the river from Pittsburg to Cincinnati goes out. The Allegheny and Monongahela have the thickest ice, and when the warm sun releases the waters there will be a grinding and crushing the equal of which has not been heard in many years. It is not expected that the river will break until the end of this month or the first week in March.

A Rocky Road for Travelers.

Private letters received here from crockery salesmen in all parts of the country say that they are having a hard time of it selling ware. Trade is dull and the dealers are not anxious to buy. They are disposing of stock, however, in a manner which shows their pluck and energy. One traveler assigns the cause of bad trade to the faithfulness of all travelers in observing the terms of the new compact.

More Railroad Talk.

There is more talk of the railroad across the county in the country north of this city, because another party of eastern men were in that section on Saturday. Some farmers feel confident that the road will be built during the coming summer, and others are of the opinion that the whole matter is a game of bluff for the sole purpose of holding right of way, which expires in the spring.

Candidates Were Plenty.

There were few candidates in the city last week, a circumstance so marked that it attracted the attention of all the politicians, who are growing accustomed to being seen by several of these every day. But the old order began today, and two aspirants for commissioner dropped into town before noon. A would-be infirm director or two were also here looking for votes.

A New Humane Agent.

General Agent Lloyd, of this city, has appointed Nathan Cole, of Columbiana, humane agent for that section. Mr. Lloyd says the society is just beginning to get things in working order, and expects that there will be plenty for them to do before many weeks roll by. The county will yet have several more towns supplied with agents.

Meeting This Afternoon.

Brigadier Cozons and wife and Staff Captain Parker arrived on the noon train from Massillon and this afternoon a council is being held at the barracks. It began at 2 o'clock and is a conference between the officers and soldiers. A general meeting will be held in the Salvation Army barracks tonight to which the public is invited.

Sunshine on Sunday.

"If it had been dark as Egypt in town yesterday there would have been light at the Thompson House," remarked one of the regulars at that hostelry last evening. "The name of the cause of this," he continued, "is Mr. Sunshine, a well known traveler of Canton, who was in the city and registered at the hotel yesterday."

Cleared the Switches.

Since the cold snap first appeared railroad men have experienced no end of difficulty with the switches off the Horn switch, and yesterday the work train from Wellsville came here to clear them. They made the necessary improvements, and all the switches were working well today.

Changed the Meeting Night.

The Ladies of the Maccabees, one of the most prosperous secret organizations in the city, have changed their evenings of meeting to Monday night. The ladies are energetic, and are initiating new members almost every night they meet.

Meet Tonight.

Finance committee of council will meet in regular session this evening, five weeks having elapsed since the last meeting. The city fathers will meet as usual tomorrow night, and considerable business of importance will be transacted.

The Death List.

A two-months-old child of Michael Schroder, of East End, died at 6 o'clock Saturday night. The funeral will take place from the Catholic church at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning with interment in the Catholic cemetery.

NO REAL AGREEMENT

But the Jobbers Look Kindly on American Ware.

THERE IS A GOOD FEELING

Which Will Undoubtedly Result in the Sale of Liverpool Pottery—James H. Goodwin Talks Briefly of the Meeting in New York Last Week.

James H. Goodwin, D. E. McNicol and George C. Thompson have returned from New York where they attended a meeting of the crockery jobbers. In speaking of the meeting this morning Mr. Goodwin said:

"While there was no specific deal made with the jobbers the meeting developed that there is a kindly feeling toward the American manufacturers. We reached a sort of understanding with the jobbers, and believe that it will tend to keep up the pleasant relations that have existed in the past. The kindly feeling of the jobbers toward American goods is a matter of no little moment."

It was reported here yesterday that the manufacturers at the meeting had made a specific agreement with the jobbers, but as Mr. Goodwin puts it the arrangement amounts to no more than a tacit understanding. If, however, this will result in the jobbers handling East Liverpool ware in preference to the imported article it will mean a big thing for the potteries, and will in a measure aid in assisting the manufacturers in their fight against the foreign manufacturers, who are doing all in their power to flood the market. It is sincerely hoped that the jobbers will consider their own interests and the welfare of the industry enough to purchase American goods.

FINDING INDICTMENTS.

The Grand Jury Met This Morning With Some Absentees.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS REVIEW.
LISBON, Feb. 11.—The grand jury met this morning for the purpose of investigating a large number of cases which will be covered during the February term of court. There are already 19 persons in jail or out on bond awaiting the action of the jury. There are a large number of other cases to be considered, among them being many liquor cases. It is thought that the jury will consume the best part of a week in the work.

When the jury convened it was found that there were a number of absentees, among them being John Grafton, of East Liverpool. Their places were filled at once, and Israel Irwin was made foreman of the jury.

The Commissioners Against Johnson.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS REVIEW.
LISBON, Feb. 11.—It was decided this morning that the case of the commissioners against Al Johnson should be tried on March 19, the week that all Liverpool cases are on the docket. The case of Charles A. McKenna against the street railway will be heard on Monday of that week.

Foreclosing a Mortgage.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS REVIEW.
LISBON, Feb. 11.—Judge Firestone today began an action in court asking an order of sale for two lots in Leetonia on which he holds a mortgage which with the interest and delinquent tax amounts to $176. Anna F. Flister owns the lots.

The Club Departed.

The owner of a prominent building uptown is looking for the officers of a club that has been occupying his rooms for some time. They left the other day and forgot to pay the rent. No furniture remained with which the debt could have been satisfied.

Judgment For Hoffman.

In Squire Travis' court this morning A. Hoffman was given judgment for $28.02 against Mrs. S. E. House, the bill being one of the old Blue Flag store debts. No other suits against the defunct firm have as yet been entered.

Started Today.

The East End pottery started today, although every department is not being operated in full. An effort will be made to keep the plant going steadily, as the salesmen are now on the road.

May Sell This Week.

Constable Albright has made no arrangements as yet to dispose of the Abrams property, but it is possible that the sale will take place this week.

A Peanut Social.

The Audubon club will give a peanut reception in Whittenberger hall Wednesday evening from 8 to 10 o'clock. A number of invitations are out for the event.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, FEB. 11.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF OHIO.

EXPERT SANT is certainly making a name for himself. Future generations will decide on the quality.

THE financial folly of this Democratic congress will go down in history as forming the dark days of the closing days of the century.

It is the Erie people contemplate a line to Liverpool they should move without delay, and it will pay them to strike while the iron is hot.

SHOULD many more bond issues find their way to England, our friend John Bull will be wanting to foreclose one of these days. Mr. Bull is a close financier.

If the street railway company are really going to give East Liverpool a better service the officials should not forget that the first thing in demand is proper protection for motormen.
Take off the miserable bits of canvas called vestibules, and construct what the law demands.

THE Louisville Courier-Journal is not in sympathy with the effort to swindle Clay Evans out of his place as governor since it says: "Tennesseeeans everywhere are ashamed when they read the dispatches from Nashville; Democrats all over the Union blush for the deeds that are there being done in the name of Democracy, to Democracy's dishonor."

HOMEWARD BOUND.
After many years of imposition and good living a portion of the hoards from southern Europe, who have been flooding the country with their presence, are homeward bound. When the hard times came on these people beyond the Atlantic stayed at home.
They feared to risk themselves here when they could not find abundant work at princely wages. As the stringency began to be felt by every class of society, and at length found its way to the Slavish, Hungarian and Italian population they began to long for home, and outward bound vessels were loaded with these people and their savings. During all this time the stream from Europe was gradually growing smaller until now it has reached that point where more people are leaving the country than are coming in. Good immigrants are always in demand, and there is ever a place for them among the people of America, but for the man who comes wrapped in ignorance and avarice we have no welcome. There is enough wickedness in the land without adding to it by the presence of such classes as have forced the American workman to the wall, and are constantly engaged in breathing treason against the government.

First Tried to Kill Him.
FALLS CITY, Neb., Feb. 11.—Two masked men held up the Missouri Pacific night operator and robbed the depot safe. The robbers shoved a double barreled shotgun through the window and fired at the operator, missing him but tearing the telegraph instruments off the table. He emptied his revolver at them but to no effect.
At the point of a Winchester he was compelled to open the door of the safe, from which a small store of money was taken. The robbers stole horses in the neighborhood and escaped.

Full Powers Given Envoys.
LONDON, Feb. 11.—A dispatch to the Times from Peking says that full powers have been telegraphed to the Chinese envoys with a view of renewal of the negotiations with Japan. The envoys are now at Nagasaki, Japan, whither they went after the Japanese government refused to treat with them, their credentials being imperfect in not clothing them with plenary power to conclude a peace.

FATE OF QUEEN LIL.

Much Interest In Her Forthcoming Trial.

SHE IS CHARGED WITH TREASON.
The Six Leaders of the Revolution All Sentenced to Death—Only One Entitled to the Protection of the United States.
Willis' Attitude Changed.

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 11.—Hawaiian advice by steamer Warrimoo to Feb. 2, are as follows:

There is a lull in affairs here and quiet will probably reign until the military court now sitting will have finished its work. There are a large number of conspiracy cases yet to be tried and the probabilities are that the court will sit for two or three weeks at least. Great interest is attached to the forthcoming trial of the ex-queen. The government claims to have more than sufficient evidence to convict her of treason. What her punishment will be in case of conviction is hard to conjecture.
Her case will probably come up next Monday. She is charged with treason.
The charge reads:

1. Treason, by engaging in an open rebellion against the republic of Hawaii, by attempting by force of arms to overthrow and destroy the same and by levying war against the same, and by adhering to the enemies of the republic of Hawaii, giving them aid and comfort within the Hawaiian Islands and elsewhere.

2. Treason by aiding, abetting, procuring, counselling, inciting, countenancing and encouraging others to commit treason and to engage in open rebellion against the republic of Hawaii, and to attempt by force of arms to overthrow the same, and to adhere to the enemies of the republic of Hawaii, in giving them aid and comfort in the Hawaiian Islands and elsewhere.

There are six specifications in the charge. The military commission has brought in findings in 24 cases. Their names are: R. W. Wilcox, S. Nowlin, H. F. Bertelman, Carl Widemann, W.
H. C. Greig, Louis Marshall, W. C.
Rickard, W. T. Seward, T. B. Walker, Solomon Kania, Pelahua, Lot Lane,
Thomas Poole, J. Kalauoka, Robert Palu, J. W. Kipikane, Kiolana, Joseph Clark, D. Januha, W. Widdifield and Joel Kiah. Of the foregoing D.
Januha and J. Kalauoka were acquitted.
The others were all found guilty and sentences were fixed by the commission, subject to review by President Dole.

The sentences vary much, all the way from sentence of death to imprisonment for five years with fines. The lowest sentence for treason by the Hawaiian statute is imprisonment for five years and a fine of not less than $5,000. The six leaders were all sentenced to be hung. They are: Charles T. Gulick, William H. Rickard, William
T. Seward, Robert W. Wilcox, Sam Nowlin and Henry Bertelman. Sentence in the last two cases will be commuted, as both men have furnished valuable evidence for the government.
Gulick was born in this country. Rickard is an Englishman. Wilcox is a Hawaiian.

The only one of the four entitled to the protection of the United States is William Seward. As yet no date has been set for the executions. The only important case tried before the military court since the departure of the Australia was that of V. V. Ashford. He is charged with treason. A batch of 20 native rebels, charged with rebellion, is now attracting the attention of the court.

United States Minister Willis has now changed his attitude since the latest advice. He is not so belligerent in his demands. His latest communication to the government is a request that if the death penalty is imposed in cases of any Americans that the executions be postponed until he can communicate with his government. The British commissioner has made a similar request. Thus far but two men who claim American protection have been tried. They are Louis Marshall, charged with open rebellion, and Thomas Walker, who pleaded guilty to the charge of treason.
The government has decided to banish three persons from the islands for complicity in the rebellion. They are J. E.
Cranston and A. Muller, for conspiracy to use dynamite, and J. B. Johnston, special police officer, who turned traitor.
Cranston and Muller were to blow up the Central Union church on the night when the rebellion broke out. Of the three exiles Johnston is a British subject, Cranston an American and Muller a German. They say they do not know what they were arrested for, were given no trial, were kept confined without any chance of communication and did not know that they were to leave until the Warrimoo whistled to leave. Johnstone will remain at Vancouver, but the others say they will not leave the steamship, but will return on her to Honolulu when she goes back. They claim that they have been victims of gross outrages.

A DEFENCE OF HAWAII.

Minister Thurston Issues a Statement Concerning Death Sentences.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Lorain A.
Thurston, the Hawaiian minister, has issued a statement in which he says that he has received no direct communication concerning the death sentences in Hawaii, but he does know that all the revolutionists will receive an impartial trial, and that if there is any policy in which the Hawaiian government has erred, it is that of too much leniency toward those who have plotted for its overthrow.

The penalty for treason, from the foundation to the overthrow of the monarchy, was death and confiscation of all property. On the 20th of January, 1893, three days after its creation, the provisional government passed an act providing an alternative penalty for treason of fine and imprisonment, and otherwise mitigating the harshness of the former law. He then says:
"Although the revolution of 1893 was caused by the attempt of the queen to abrogate the constitution and disfranchise nearly every person intrusted with the new government, she has since been treated with the utmost consideration by that government. She has been allowed to occupy her comfortable residence in Honolulu, within a block of the executive building, in peace and without molestation, although she has unsuccessfully publicly and privately plotted therein for the overthrow of the government, and finally made it an arsenal, in which were discovered 40 rifles, two dynamite bombs, pistols, swords and ammunition in quantity.

"Again, although Liliuokalani has made no claim for compensation, the annexation commission, in the interest of harmony and to avoid even the appearance of harshness, secured the insertion in the proposed annexation treaty a clause giving her an annual pension of $50,000, and until she began to openly work for the overthrow of the government, the salary which she had received as queen continued to be paid to her by the provisional government; and until Princess Kaiulani came to Washington to work for restoration she also continued to receive her former allowance.

"The ex-queen has twice applied to the government for protection against supporters of the government whom she feared might do her harm, one of the times being while she was in the act of negotiating with Mr. Willis for her restoration and the overthrow of the provisional government. Upon both occasions a squad of police was detailed to guard her from harm, for as long a period as she desired them. The government has at all times been willing, in the interest of peace, recognizing the obligation so to do, to grant the ex-queen an annual allowance on the one condition that she abandon her claims to the throne and agree to keep the peace."

Mr. Thurston then cites history to show that no government was ever so lenient to a deposed sovereign. He also says that Hawaii has not in time of revolution exercised more or less control of the press and the right of public meeting, while the United States and other governments have. In this era of the United States, the police of Chicago and New York do not hesitate to interfere with and break up anarchist meetings. The police of Brooklyn last week prevented, by force, the holding of a mass meeting of workmen in a public square. The Hawaiian roy-alists have held public meetings to protest against the government, etc. The royalist press has been allowed, unchecked, to advocate the restoration of the monarchy and to pour out a flood of abuse upon the republic and its supporters.

One of the serious features of the situation in Hawaii, he says, is that a number of the insurgents are what may be called "professional revolutionists." The rank and file are ignorant dupes. He then describes the wild plotting of Robert Wilcox against the different governments of Hawaii. He then asks:

"What is the government of Hawaii to do? There have already, during its short existence, been two domestic conspiracies to overthrow it by force. Is the government to condone every offense that can be committed against a government, and upon capturing insurrec-tionists in the act of shooting down its citizens, allow them to again go free to repeat the operation at the first convenient opportunity?
"If I recollect correctly, the authorities of Chicago condemned and executed sentences upon not only the men who threw the bombs at the police, but those who, by writing in the press and by public speeches, had incited the violence.
They did so in pursuance of the solemn duty imposed upon every government, and upon capturing insurrec-tionists in the act of shooting down its
citizens, allow them to again go free to
repeat the operation at the first convenient opportunity."

NINE DAYS OVERDUE.

La Gasconne Has Failed to Reach New York Harbor.

HAS WEATHERED GALES BEFORE.

The French liner has a good record for riding storms. Navigators and the Company officials think she is all right—masters at sea.

New York, Feb. 11.—The French steamer La Gasconne has failed to reach harbor. The three steamers which have arrived at this port have seen or heard nothing of her. But the fact that the vessel has not nearly so staunch as the French liner, has weathered the gales that have swept the Atlantic for the past week or more, has given heart and hope to those who can view the chances of the big steamer from an impartial standpoint.

La Gasconne is now nine days overdue. She has faced many a furious gale in the years that she has crossed the ocean but never was she so tardy in reaching port.

On Oct. 26, 1891, she came into New York harbor, 920 souls on board, salt-encrusted to the top of her funnels. She was only 24 hours late, but for four days and nights she had been in the grip of a hurricane.

One day of such weather would have tested the staunchness of almost anything that floats, but La Gasconne wore out four days and nights of it and reached New York practically uninjured. It is such experiences that have given the agents in this city confidence that their boat is still plowing the seas as safe in some out-of-the-way haven.

Dispatches reached here from Halifax, N. S., with the report that La Gasconne had been sighted in the vicinity of Sable Island. No official verification of this was to be had, owing to the impossibility of getting communication with the island. Any report, however, of a steamer lying off Sable Island in a crippled condition in the midst of heavy gales would not be a hope-inspiring one, as this is known as an extremely dangerous locality for mariners. The island lies about 10 miles southeast of Cape Canso. It is narrow and low and has been the scene of many ship wrecks. But the report, originating in some unknown way, even without verification, was the subject of some considerable speculation on the part of shipping men. All efforts on the part of the company to get explicit information in that connection were without avail.

The men in the office of the French line do not worry much, as they are used to the delays of vessels and past experience has taught them that frequent impediments to travel on water, especially in stormy weather, are met with. None of them believe La Gasconne to be lost. It is the friends of and relatives of passengers, those who have loved ones on board, that are fearful of the worst.

Captain Griffith of the American transport liner Manitoba says that he thinks La Gasconne will be first spoken for by a vessel bound from the Mediterranean or eastward for Gibraltar.

"I sailed from London the day La Gasconne sailed from Havre," said Captain Griffith, "and as her course was more to the southward she doubtless escaped the North Atlantic storms which all the vessels that sailed over northern courses encountered. My opinion is that she broke down west of the Azores and was carried by the prevailing current toward southern latitude."

Lieutenant Mardock, the navigator of the U. S. S. Minneapolis, said at the Navy club: "If La Gasconne broke down and had to resort to sails she would hardly spread enough canvas to make more than 50 miles a day, and with the prevailing winds as marked out on the course, which are head winds, she could hardly make any port for some days."

At the Navy club the officers present all believed that the vessel would eventually come in with all on board in good health.

Rescued Fourteen Persons.

New York, Feb. 11.—The Umbria has arrived, her shrouds and part of her hull encrusted in ice, and glistening with myriads of diamonds. Huge icicles hang from her shrouds both fore and aft. From the topmost edge of the bridge to the deck were one mass of glittering ice and the lifeboats, davits and taffrails were covered with it. It was during the only spell of good weather on the vessel's voyage that she was enabled to rescue 14 persons who were adrift in a water-logged, helpless bark, the Jean Baptiste.

A Peoniar Railroad Accident.

Cass City, Mich., Feb. 11.—A south-bound special train on the Pontiac, Oxford and Northern railroad has met with a peculiar accident here. The train carried 35 passengers and was drawn by two engines headed by a snowplow. Upon striking a cut the snowplow was turned around and its rear placed upon the top of a 14-foot embankment. The first locomotive was thrown from the track. Both engines and the forward coach were badly damaged. No one was seriously injured.

A Conference Being Held In Columbus Today.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 11.—In response to a call issued by C. R. Martin of Tiffin, a conference of dissatisfied Knights of Labor is being held here today. Communications have been received by Mr. Martin from a number of district assemblies which are too far distant to be represented, assuring him that whatever action may be taken by the conference will receive their support.

A delegate states that the conference will lay the groundwork for a new organization of the Knights. The gathering will not assume the proportions of a convention. Its work will be merely preliminary to a convention to be called later. It is claimed a majority of the Knights of the country are not in accord with the present administration of the order.

Suspected of the Jamieson Murder.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 11.—Sherman Case, Mick Lowry and James Beall were arraigned in police court Saturday for preliminary hearing charged with the murder of James Jamieson. Charles Case, another suspect and brother of Sherman, was granted a separate hearing. Lowry and Sherman Case were partially identified. Strong circumstantial evidence was developed against these two men. The hearing will be continued this week. The defense will be an alibi. The other suspects were released.

Killed a Big Bear.

GLENNVILLE, W. Va., Feb. 11.—W. W. Knapp of Normantown heard a loud squealing in his pig pen, and, going out, found a black bear in the pen, doing his best to get a pig, about half grown, over the side of the pen. Knapp ran to the house and got his Winchester rifle and, returning, fired six shots into the bear, the last shot being fatal. The brute was a fine, big one, and weighs about 300 pounds.

Quarrels Lead to a Tragedy.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 11.—At Richburg, Ky., Henry Denison has been murdered by his stepson, Jean Burke. When his mother, Mrs. John Burke, married Denison, the children all left home. Denison became very reckless and was squandering the Burke fortune rapidly. The mother joined the children in protesting against issuing mortgages. A series of quarrels culminated in Denison being stabbed to death.

A First Degree Verdict.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 11.—Lafayette Prince, the Nottingham township farmer who on the 19th of September last butchered his wife with an ax while she was fleeing from him in her night clothes, was convicted Saturday afternoon of murder in the first degree by the jury before whom he has been tried for the past week and a half, in Judge Stone's court.

Admiral Meade Buys Coke.

Elkins is the chief owner, has secured a contract from the government for an experimental order of 10,000 tons of their smokeless coal, to be used by Admiral Meade's squadron of evolution in West Indian waters.

The sale is set for Feb. 20. The Central Trade association has granted reduced rates to purchasers, and the new method of selling carriage and buggy futures will be given a trial.

Deliberately Froze to Death.

MUSCATINE, Ia., Feb. 11.—George Moore, the well known grandson of Banker Moore, walked across the Mississippi river high bridge when the thermometer registered zero, took off his clothing and remained there until he froze to death. He was 36 years of age, highly educated and wealthy. He had been blind all his life.

XENIA, O., Feb. 11.—The council of administration of the Department of Ohio, G. A. R., met at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home, in this city, and fixed the place for the next state encampment at Sandusky June 5, 6 and 7.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. William Satterfield, Fifth street, a daughter.

Michael Shay, of Third street, is confined to his home with a severe attack of the prevailing malady—grip.

The freezing of the river will prevent the excursions by water to the great New Orleans festival this month.

There was a big real estate deal on the taps last week, but it fell through at the last moment, and the sale was not made.

A large number of invitations have been issued by the ladies of the Turners' society for their dance in Turner hall this evening, and a pleasant time is anticipated.

Skaters along the river Saturday and today were numerous, the largest crowd perhaps being at the island, where a small stretch of clear ice has formed. But few skaters desecrated the Sabbath by indulging in the sport yesterday.

The Chelsea pottery at New Cumberland has been shut down for some time the company having a well filled warehouse and but small sale for their product. A number of potters who were employed there are said to have obtained work and are now living in this city.

The trolley of a street car was out of order yesterday morning, and an employe of the road was compelled to ride from Wellsville on top of the car holding it in position. It was a cold ride, but the man stood faithfully to his post. Traffic on the road yesterday was light.

No actual work is being done by the bridge company at present, and the foundation for the pier on the Virginia side looks sad and deserted. The company are waiting for spring to give them another opportunity. J. E. McDonald, president of the company, is recovering his health, and improving as rapidly as his friends expect.

The family of Capt. J. L. Morris arrived in the city today, and will make this their future home. They will reside in the Stewart property on Sixth street. Mr. McIntosh moving to the Ashbaugh residence on Seventh street. Mr. Ashbaugh will occupy the property of Mr. Bradshaw in Huston addition, that gentleman moving his family to Maryland.

The News Review takes issue with the Toronto Tribune regarding the girl from that village who came here and masqueraded in the clothes of a man. The girl was here, she said she was from Toronto, and she did wear garments which did not belong to her sex. These are facts, and there are people in this city who know them to be plain, unvarnished truths.

The East Liverpool Medical association meets this week, being the regular monthly session, and the subject of a meeting with the committees from council, board of commerce and board of health will be discussed. Interest in the hospital scheme has by no means died out, and although the early February meeting failed to materialize, the idea is still to have a conference and act on the plans submitted.

The 24-minute schedule, which took the place of the 12-minute arrangement on the electric line on Friday night, is still in force, and Superintendent Andrews announces that it will be until later increases. The running of but six cars, with 24 minutes between each, was necessitated by the blizzard, and has worked so satisfactorily that the company saw in it a chance to cut expenses, and decided to do so.

The street railway people do not expect to be bothered by the Wellsville ordinance prohibiting the salt car from running through the sister city, as it is yet only a proposition, and council meets there but once a month. Unless some one is awfully anxious and rushes the matter through on first reading it will be three months before the ordinance becomes a law, and by that time the gentle springtime will have arrived, and the salt car will have been laid away.

A peculiar accident happened at the Central fire station Saturday afternoon. The two new horses purchased for the engine were being taken from their stalls, when, in prancing about, one of them struck the box containing the machinery which releases the chains holding the other stall doors. The other horses rushed to their places, as usual, and most of the force were puzzled for a moment, as the gong did not send forth the usual alarm. The new horses were scared by the unusual proceeding.

The improvements at some of the potteries have been greatly delayed by the awful weather, and are at a standstill. Nothing is being done at the new kilns of the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles company, and work at Thompson's has been suspended. At the Thomas knob works the delay has been exasperating, although every day of good weather was utilized. At the plants where improvements were to be made, but were not started before the winter came on, nothing will be done until spring.

They Come High.

Among the terrors of a housewife's life these days is the price of eggs. For several days they have been meandering around the 30 cent point, and on Saturday some stores in the city were selling them at 32. The supply was so close to exhaustion today that the dealers gave them another lift, and the misery of the housewife was complete. It is expected that the first few days of warm weather will force down the price to something like reasonable bounds, but the hens always strike when there is zero temperature.

SAVED FROM THE ELBE.

A Cleveland Man's Thrilling Tale of His Experience.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—On board the Unbria were three survivors of the steamship Elbe: Eugene Schlegel of Furst, Germany, on his way to this country for the first time, with his sister Emma, who was lost with the ship; Jan Vevera of Cleveland and Carl Hoffman of Grand Island, Neb., whose wife and child were among the lost. Mr. Vevera said that he was restless all the night of the accident, for some unknown reason, and laid down with his clothes on. About 20 minutes to six he heard a crash and ran forward to the engine room. An officer's white face showed that he and others were lying when, in answer to his questions, they said nothing was wrong.

He ran to his stateroom, made some change in his clothing and secured life preservers for himself and niece. Then he said:

"On going on deck, however, the ship had listed over to port to such an extent and there was so much confusion and noise that I have very little idea of anything except to getting into the boat from which I was picked up by the 'Wildflower.' I saw nothing of the steamer that collided with us. But the sight the Elbe presented as she rolled back from port to starboard and then slowly began to settle down by the stern is one that I will never forget.

"I would have given everything I ever possessed to have escaped the spectacle of the people struggling in the water around the ship and those on the Elbe swarming forward up on the decks toward the bow as the Elbe settled down into the sea. It could not have been more than 25 minutes from the time the collision occurred until the ship sank from sight. And those minutes and the ensuing five hours seem longer to me than all the rest of the years of my life put together. When we picked up Miss Anna Buecker she was swimming along bravely and was fully dressed with the exception of having no shoes on. She was very cold and sat in the bottom of the ship's boat in water up to her waist until we were picked up by the fishing smack and never uttered a complaint. When the Wildflower picked us up I had my left leg crushed between the boat and the smack. But that and my right thumb, which was hurt in the boat, were the only injuries I received. The people at Lowestoft treated us splendidly.

Cut Ice to Bathe.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The cold weather continues. The Braemar observatory instruments have registered 12 below zero. In spite of the cold weather there are large numbers of bathers daily in the Serpentine, a sheet of artificial water in Hyde park, this city. The ice is broken for them every morning and they indulge in their usual swim before breakfast. Belle Cole's concert party has been snowed up for 14 hours between Edinburgh and Inverness without food or fire.

Icebound Men All Right.

LUDINGTON, Mich., Feb. 11.—The tug Thompson and the steamer F. & F. M. No. 4, which started out to relieve the imprisoned car ferries, off Manistee, were forced to abandon the undertaking, owing to the heavy ice. Captain Ackerman of the No. 1, came ashore over the ice at Manistee. He says the coal supply of his steamer is completely exhausted. The steamer is safe and those on board are comfortable.
